

Mildred Osborne Charter School

Special Education

A. Description of overall philosophy:

The philosophy of the Mildred Osborne Charter School Special Education Department is to provide each student with a unique program created to meet students' needs as an exceptional learner in compliance with the Individual with Disabilities Education Act, Section 504, and the Americans with Disabilities Act. Our goal is to empower each student to apply his/her abilities so that he/she can become a contributing member in the world. We have confidence that each student, in spite of exceptionality, is entitled to this opportunity in the least restrictive environment.

In order for the special education program to be most effective, the staff will utilize a variety of methods and resources. To enhance the special education program, teachers and paraprofessionals will be involved in ongoing skill training.

In order to meet the needs of all students, a complete system of support services, identification, diagnosis, and placement has been developed. The special education staff at the school:

- Supports inclusion
- Enlists support from regular education teachers to ensure the success of students with disabilities
- Provides necessary skills so that students can become productive citizens
- Encourages parents to be active participants
- Develops an atmosphere conducive to the growth and enhancement of the students academic and social emotional development

Description of extended school year services:

Identification: We identify students based on 6 predictive factors:

- Is the student's rate of progress such that the regression/recoupment is so great that it prevents the student from progressing on his/her goals and/or objectives?
- Will the type or severity of the student's disability cause the skills learned by the student during the regular school year to be significantly jeopardized if he/she does not receive ESY services ?
- Will the student's behavior cause the skills learned during the regular school year to be significantly jeopardized if he/she does not receive ESY services?
- Will the student's physical needs cause the skills learned during the regular school year to be significantly jeopardized if he/she does not receive ESY services?
- Does the student have goals, objectives, curricular elements, and/or other IEP components that require continuous attention in order to avoid significant jeopardy to learned skills during extended breaks?
- Are there other factors that present a risk that skills or knowledge learned by the student during the regular school year will be significantly jeopardized over extended breaks?

Delivery: Extended school year services are provided for 2 weeks (or longer if necessary) after each regular school year. Services are provided to students in the least restrictive setting. Services are delivered by special education teachers and paraprofessionals.

Description of specialized program(s):	The school is implementing a specialized life skills program for its highest need special education students. This program is designed to teach essential skills that will help these students succeed in life after school. The first component of the program is operating the school store. Special education students are paired with a peer buddy to perform activities such as: checking inventory, stocking supplies, and collecting the “money” when other students make purchases. The second component is regular instruction in integrated community settings. This component takes students into a variety of real-world settings (such as grocery stores, coffee shops, restaurants, and retail stores) and provides them an opportunity to make purchases, communicate with new people, and learn how to be a safe pedestrian.
